DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Blish, II (USP 5,914,873) in view of Hu (USP 5,938,769). Blish describes an array of voltage regulators (220a-220n) connected in parallel, and a having a first voltage regulator that accepts a first power demand that is lower than the second power demands which would be greater. Blish discloses the claimed device except for having differing load power demands rates. Hu discloses that it is known in the art to provide a having differing load power demands rates. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the an array of voltage regulators (220a-220n) connected in parallel of Blish with the provide a having differing load power demands rates of Hu, in order to provide a more diversified and power supply system capable of handling load and power demands of the circuit.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
